WASHINGTON (CP)-A revtions system is being pushed tocommercial basis next year. It will bring closer the day when you may dial Asia by manmade satellite and have the call charged to your telephone bill.

Or you may see sharply-focussed action photographs in your newspapers of events half-way round the world, flashed to Canada through the skies with unprecedented speed.

In time, your television screen may bring you African tribal dances, Japanese geisha girls or Australian football. matches telecast live.

All these may be possible the creation of a global satellite communications network, the first segment of which the fledgling Communications Satellite Corporation plans to launch on a commercialexperimental basis in 1965.

CANADIANS EAGER

The Canadian government is reported seeking an active role in establishment of the global "star telephone" network. Canadia 3 have been working with U.S. officials to prepare the international groundwork, but the extent to which Canada's government and industry will supply money, technology and equipment and share in the administration may not be decided for months.

Scanning the skies now dotted with an assortment of experi-mental man moons, the U.S. corporation headed by Cana-dian-born Joseph Charyk – a native of Canmore, Alta.—has decided its first operational satellite will be the so-called high-altitude Syncom type, synchronized to rotate with the speed of earth.

Boosted over the equator to a height of 22,300 miles, this

To back up his case for a weeding-out of laws which have outlived their usefulness, lawyer Alan Macfarlane came up with a severalhundred year-old ukase which still clutters our statute books.

This is the Arrest and Imprisonment for Debt Act, under which a creditor to the tune of over $100 may have the debtor whom he fears may skip the province tossed into the skookum-

While in jail, according to a section of the Act read by Macfarlane, his privileges include these:

Happy, Hilarious

"The prisoner, at his free will and pleasure, may send for and have brought to him at seasonable times, in the day time, any beer, ale, victuals or other necessary food, from what place he thinks fit or can have the same, and also can have and use such bedding, linen or other necessary things as he has occasion for and sees fit."

It remained for Attorney-General Bonner, the spoil-sport, to flaw this idyll. While the debtor doesn't pay for the service, he must fee the supplier of his cakes and ale,

The need, he felt, is especially great on Saanich Peninsula, where "green spaces, beach accesses, headlands, open woodlands, and other scenic and recreational facilities should be acquired."

The wigs are patterned on the shaggy hair styles of Britain's rock 'n' roll singers, the Beatles. They're being sold by impresario Louis Cohen for $29.29 in nine shades—black, black with a white streak, dark medium and light brown, dark and medium blonde, off-white, red.

Boys have been his best customers, Cohen says, although some girls are interested in looking like Beatles.

The Communists have scored authorities have been considering the prospect of either throwing large numbers of American troops into active warfare to win a decision -which might take years-or reducing the present participation of advisers and observers and leaving it to the Vietnamese to carry on.

Red-China has been the powerful background factor in the whole Vietnamese struggle.

Saigon's sudden break-off of relations with France further denies those who had sought a compromise solution with the Communists.

Insofar as the coup was a rejection of this element we may expect an intensified prosecution of the war. But if the revolt was merely a bid for greater personal power by one individual attempting to exploit a fluid situation, then the country will have been left in a more seri-ous position than ever and its United States backers will be embarrassed, to say the least.

The plays and counter-plays within South Wet Nam must not be allowed to obscure the wider-picture. The original United States determination to prevent Com-munist infiltration of South Viet Nam by subversive forces from the north must still stand. It was a good policy then to prevent the fall of South Viet Nam to the Communists, and it still is today, for to lose this key bloc would imperil the whole of ment des Creditistes means that there will have to be a provincial institu-Quebec separatism, for the first time in our parliamentary history, has conquered an established political party. There is no precedent for this development in the brief career of the Bloc Populaire. That party, largely a product of resentment against wartime conscription, was dedicated to comparatively modest ob-

Western ectives. These emerge with clarity from a speech delivered in the House of Commons by Mr. Maxime Raymond on January 31, 1944. The Bloc stood for Canadian nationalism (stressing, for example, a distinctive flag and anthem and a Canadian governor-general); diluted isolationism; provincial autonomy and various social welfare easures (especially family allowances) Mr. Caouette has moved, or been swept, r beyond these limited goals:

The Ralliement does not profess to be paratist but declares that it will back separatism within two years unless its four-point "ultimatum" is met. This is a distinction without much apparent difference because the demands are clearly a

Ralliement Demands

Quebec, according to the Ralliement, must have (1) "Absolute control over the creation of its credit"; (2) "Control over its imports and exports"; (3) "Absolute control over immigration" and (4) "The return to the provinces of direct and indirect fiscal resources."

Point one is of particular significance Mr. Caouette in the past has been opposed to Social Credit action in the provincial field for the understandable reason that the Bank of Canada is a federal institution. It is the Bank of Canada, as he is very well aware, which regulates money and credit in this country. If Quebec is to have

THE weekend declaration of the Rallie- "absolute control" on which he insists, tion with similar powers.

In such a situation, however, the Caouette bank would be in a position to destroy the value of the Canadian cur-rency. What it did in Quebec would affect the value of money throughout the country. This could only lead - as in divided Germany—to two currencies. It is not surprising that Mr. Caouette also insists upon control of imports and exports. He ould undoubtedly need this protection because soaring prices in Quebec would otherwise provoke a flood of imports which would make his problem unmanageable,

The second demand means, in any case, that Confederation would cease to be even a customs union. A Creditiste government might find alternatives to tariffs (although demands of revenue would make this unlikely) but these, like quotas and prohibitions, would be even worse.

Provincial Immigration

Not only would the traveller entering Quebec be required to go through customs; he would also have to be cleared by the provincial immigration authorities. "absolute control over Caouette wants immigration." But he obviously could not insist upon a veto over the immigration policy of the Ottawa government. As he could not control immigration to Ontario or New Brunswick, he would be forced to et up provincial barriers against freedom of movement within Canada. (Quebec, incidentally, has been outpaced only by Ontario in attracting post-war immi-

Ever since the Ralliement burst upon the Quebec scene, Mr. Caouette has attacked separatism and portrayed his movement as an answer to it. This did not prevent him from breaking with national Social Credit party and it did not, according to reports of the famous Granby convention, lessen the interest of the separatists in Mr. Caouette's spectacular career. They seem to have been remarkprescient.

It is true that Mr. Caouette does not, as yet, formally challenge the right of the federal authority to preside over Canada's foreign relations. This is perhaps un-necessary. His formula would leave Ottawa powerless to conduct a foreign policy. How could the government enter commitments with other states if it was powerless to ensure that obligations w honored within the new "confedera-

Answer to Prayer

Mr. Caouette seems, indeed, to be the answer to Dr. Chaput's prayers. He has so led the party that, according to its own poll, 48 per cent of the members canvassed are ready to co-operate with the separatists if Social Credit is accepted. Ralliement has what Dr. Chaput has always lacked; an organization which has shown itself capable in favorable circumstances of winning a bloc of parliamentary At the moment the circumstance look distinctly unfavorable but moods and prospects change quickly in the present state of Quebec.

The ultimatum illustrates another point which is causing concern among Quebec moderates. It is quite possible that the Caouette program appears to a good many rank-and-file Creditistes compatible with the preservation of Confederation. It has me rather common for Quebec speakers, not necessarily associated with the Ralliement, to attack separatism while at the same time putting forward demands which at the least encourage the separatists and are sometimes separatists in their

Mr. Caouette badly needed an issue for the two Montreal by elections of February 10. He will now presumably ask the voters to endorse the "ultimatum." These tactics are not original; even the short-lived Bloc Populaire did well in byelections. But Mr. Cauette is accepting a major risk; if his candidates are badly defeated, despite the alliance of Social Credit and separatresults will be convincing evidence that extremism is less popular than some politicians, inside and outside the Ralliement, are wont to assume

'After His Kind'

How interesting to read the Times editorial "Ideological Oil" of January 11, which tells how the Marxian philosophy translated into the scientific field has resulted in some strange goings on in Soviet Russia like a group of scientists' new theory that oil and gas were formed by complex chemical processes working on inorganic matter, and the Soviet bi-ologist Lysenko insisting that it was possible to change the genetic characteristics of plants through environment.

Both of these ideas have been given official sanction because they fall in line with Marxian belief that man can totally master his environment, but it is now known that some of the difficulties in which Soviet agriculture finds itself are blamed on attempts to put Lysenko's theories into practice.

that as of now the Republican Party is in very bad shape indeed. When one remembers that a candidate who gets 60 per cent of the votes on election day wins by a large landslide in the electoral college, these current figures rating President or even 80 per cent seem to say there is some kind of convulsion within the Republican Party. For while President Johnson will almost certainly not get the votes of all the people who are for him now, I believe the polls are telling an important story.

It turns on the argument about metooism among Republicans, as illustrated by Goldwater and Rockefeller. Senator Goldwater is saying that the Republican Party can win if it offers the voters "a choice and not an echo." His theory is that the Republicans must differ radically from the Democrats.

Governor Rockefeller, on the other hand, not only agrees with the main aims of the Democrats, but knows that a large majority of the people agree with them, also. So he is driven to take the position that the Republican Party with him as leader would achieve the common aims better than the Democrats can achieve This is what Senator Goldwater calls me-tooism, in his mind a recipe for

The fact that this is so is being demonstrated by the complete failure of Senator Gold-water himself to produce any kind of coherent and defensible program. ## No Radical Difference

Neither in the 1920s under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, nor in the 1950s under Eisenhower did the Republican Party return to power with a radically different policy. Herbert Hoover, though he chos to be a Republican, was in international affairs a Wilsonian Democrat. And Dwight D. Another way of putting it: if I had pur chased a house valued at $23,700 and had been willing to wait 25 years before accepting delivery, I could theoretically have got 1t for $12,800 paid immediately.

That is what the United States government is doing in its purchase of Canada's share of Columbia River power. It is pay-ing cash immediately for benefits it will be receiving during the 30 years following construction of three dams on the Canadian section of the Columbia. These dams are scheduled for completion in 1968, 1969 and 1973. The $254,400,000 that the U.S. will pay Canada on Oct. 1, 1964, is for stored water, the equivalent of hydro-electric power, that will be progressively delivered to the U.S. starting in 1968, but which will not be totally delivered until 2003.

If the British Columbia government had been willing to accept payment in the normal way—say, on monthly billings by the B.C. Hydro Commission to the U.S. power entities -- then by 2003 the BCHC would have collected more than $500 millions from the U.S.

By settling for half that amount in advance, British Columbia is in effect getting the $500 millions minus 4½ per cent interest over the years on that portion of the $254 millions that, year after year, represents the diminishing amount of stored water still would have to pay on a $254 millions issue of 30-year B.C. Hydro bonds, and so financially this mortgage-in-reverse is a good bar-gain for British Columbia. It gives the province $254 millions in U.S. dollars, currently worth $273 millions in Canadian dollars, to help finance construction of the dams, which are estimated to cost about $400 millions Canadian. It will be several years before this money is all spent, so in the meantime B.C. will be earning interest on all or part of this $Can. 273 millions. Indeed, emier Bennett plans to back a new char tered bank with this money

This $273 millions plus interest will be augmented by $U.S. 64 millions that B.C. will get progressively from the U.S., as the dams are completed, in payment for flood control benefits the dams will confer on U.S. communities on the lower Columbia River. grand total is going to be very close to the $400 millions cost of the dams.

So Canada will get "free," or at least at no substantial cost, $400 millions in dams that, by installation of turbines and generators at a cost of perhaps another $100 millions, will give B.C. 4,000,000 kilowatts of generating canacity to revolve the product to the second seco generating capacity to produce power for use in B.C. at the very low cost of two mills per kilowatt hour. And after 30 years, when the sales contract with the U.S. expires, the resi-dual "downstream benefits" will again be available to B.C. to use or sell.

When Premier Bennett first reneged on the 1961 Columbia treaty, I wrote that in trying to clobber the Columbia to favor his important Peace River development. Mr. Bennett was likely to end up a great Canadian benefactor. And so he has proven to be.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

insomnia

One of the diseases-perhaps brought on by civilization—is insomnia. Some people can go to sleep the minute their head hits the pillow, while others will lie awake until 2 or 3 a.m. Some physicians who, I suspect, never had trouble with insomnia, say, "Just lie there calmly in bed and eventually you will get to sleep." That would be bad enough for some retired or wealthy person who hasn't any work to do, but it can be terrible for the person whose alarm is Alvarez going off at 6 or 7 in the morning, and who must then get up and work hard all day.

Without a night's sleep, the victim of in somnia may be unable to do a good day's work. The girl at a typewriter or in a cash-taking booth, or the man who is keeping a set of books, is likely to make some bad mistakes.

What can be done? One good plan is to go to bed early, and not to do any hard mental work in the evening. I find that if I study and write after 8 or 9 p.m., I will not sleep well. If, when on a vacation, I have a restful evening, I am likely to go to sleep easily, and then to sleep well for the rest of the nights. If I have to give a banquet address before a big crowd, I get so "lit up" that I cannot get to sleep unless I take a pill.

Sometimes I can get to sleep by reading until I get sleepy and heavy-eyed. If then I quickly lie down and shut my eyes I am likely to go right to sleep. However, if I get up and move around; if I turn off lights and brush my teeth, and get wakened, sleep is not likely to come Sometimes, if I leave my FM radio on just loud enough so that I can listen to it, I may go to sleep. If, for a few minutes, my wife will read to me from a not-too-exciting book, I may go quickly to sleep. Often I must discipline myself—and scold myself and stop thinking of a problem at my office: I have to keep saying to myself, "You came to bed to sleep and not to work out a problem.'

* * * Many of my older friends tell me that if they will drink a bottle of beer or a big glass of port or sherry they will quickly go to sleep. Alcohol can be a tranquilizer. Old people, and especially old men, seem to that is worth worrying about.

need less sleep than young people do; they tend to keep waking and drowsing and waking again all night. Also, old men are usually wakened a few times during the night because of an irritable bladder.

A few people are wakened again and again with arthritic pains, or a cough, or "restless legs." Some are bothered by ear noises, throbbing in their ears, itchiness, leg cramps, flatulence, cold feet, sweating, or a stuffy

Some women, whose eyes are very sensi-tive to light, can sleep an extra hour or two in the morning if they will wear an eye shade made of cloth.

There is a type of insomnia that I seldom read about but often hear about, and this is the insomnia that comes between 1 and 5 in the morning. I know it well, and have found it particularly trying. Few people realize that there are thousands of men and women who much need a small dose of a barbiturate some time in the early morning —a few hours before daylight.

I am a great believer in the use of sleep-making drugs when they are much needed. I know that in many a case they can keep a person from going on into a bad nervous breakdown. When I wrote my book, "Minds that Came Back," I found that many of the 75 persons from whose autobiographies 1 quoted, had said that they thought that if only, as they were cracking nervously, their doctor had made them sleep well for a week they would never have "snapped" and would not have had to go into a mental hospital.

In all my 58 years of practice I have seen only a few people who got to taking too big doses of some barbiturate, and they were all undisciplined persons who had poor selfcontrol. Furthermore, I never saw a patient really habituated to barbiturates as a man is to heroin or morphine; all the people who were taking large doses of a barbiturate could

I have taken barbiturates often in the years since 1918, and I feel not the slightest desire for the stuff. I have never run up the dose of such drugs, and what is remarkable, I still can get good sleep from half the amount that is usually prescribed. On a vacation, when I am relaxed, I need no drug for sleeping, and I have no desire for one. This certainly shows that barbiturates not have to cause any degree of habituation

Peking Stand Won't Alter French Plan

PARIS (Reuters) expects three months of heightened political warfare between Peking and Formosa in consequence of French re-cognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

French government spokes men assumed an apparently calm attitude Wednesday over the possibility Peking will in-sist on France breaking diplomatic relations with National ist China when the two countries exchange ambassadors in three months.

French newspapers reported the France-Red China agree-ment, announced Monday, was already on the point of break-down over France's simultaneous recognition of both govern

But government officials denied such a dilemma existed, pointing out that France has ever recognized the existence of "two Chinas."

They declared Peking's statement Tuesday that the Chines Communist regime was the sole representative of the Chinese people was merely a reaffirmation of the Chinese position already known in France.

This was taken into consider ation during the secret talks paving the way for recognition and the French government was satisfied the agreement without conditions will be car ried out in due course, the officials said.

POSITION UNCHANGED Moreover, they added,

France has no intention of modifying its existing relations with Nationalist China. In Hong Kong, the Chinese Nationalist economic affairs minister, C. T. Yang, said the Formosa regime will not sever relations with France for the moment, adding: "If France does not break off relations with us, we will still maintain relations as long as it suits

Officials here also pointed ut it was illogical to consider of two governments of a single country in any given capital.

Drill Crews Go Deeper In Gas Hunt

By GORDON BELL Times Business Editor

Lifting the veil of secreey from its North Beaver River gas well, Canada Southern Petroleums has revealed that last week's sidered of great Gordon Bell importance in proving up the Beaver River area, is about 150 miles northwest of Fort Nelson and 11 miles northeast of the Pan American River discovery which was brought in last year and is unofficially rated as one of the largest gas wells in the

The unsuccessful test on the Canada Southern well brought up a 5,386-foot "cushion" of water and 3,200 feet of heavily gas-cut drilling mud from the 12,286-foot deep

At latest report crews were resuming the drilling opera-tion to go deeper into the for-mation and the company is optimistic, because of the strong "air blow" on the test, that a major gasser will be brought in yet. The well is owned 45 per cent by Canada Southern, 25 per cent by Pan American and the balance in varying degrees by Dome Pete, Provo Gas, Home Oil. Alminex Pete, Kern County Land and others.

Canada's production of wood pulp reached a record 1,300,000 tons last year, but production of newsprint was down slight by from the previous year due to U.S. newspaper strikes which cost Canadian paper mills sales of about 200,000

R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, said in his annual report that about 9,000,000 tons of the year's record pulp production was converted to paper and paperboard in Canadian mills and the balance was exported.

Total exports amounted to about 80 per cent of pulp and paper production and this, in turn, accounted for almost one-fifth of all Canadian exports. The U.S. and Britain continued to be the main custo-mers but some other countries, notably Japan, had increased imports of pulp and paper sub-stantially, Mr. Fowler said. Exports of chemical pulp increased markedly to 250,000 tons in 1963 reflecting a pronounced rise in the demand for paper and paperboard.

Despite the new record total of pulp production, the industry operated at only about 85 per cent of capacity, the same as in 1962.

B.C. Bank To House Court House?

Works Minister W. N. Chant Kaid Wednesday he hopes a new B.C. bank will build a Vancouver high-rise that would also house provincial offices.

He said this would be preferable to the government doing the building and leasing to the bank, in which it will be a shareholder anyway.

He was commenting on the suggestion of Education Minis-ter Leslie Peterson that the bank be built on a city-owned block in downtown Vancouver, and that the same high-rise building house a new court house. (The property is the site of Vancouver's proposed civic square.)

Hydro Gaps Make Some Second Class

There should be no more power rate reductions until everybody in the province has power service, a government MLA proposed Wednesday.

"A person without power in this day and age is a second-class citizen," said Cyril Shelford (SC—Omineca) told the legislature.

And there are many such second-class citizens in his riding, Mr. Shelford said. The government has cut power rates twice since the B.C. Electric takeover.

"There are many without power who gained nothing at all and many of those living today without power will never get power under the present policy, for the simple reason they won't live long enough to see the happy day when they can switch on a light," Mr. Shelford said. He urged the government to make a survey to find out how many people don't have power service.

"I think we will be mighty surprised at the great number." he said. "In my opinion there should be no further reduction of rates until most of these unfortunate people do have power."

Bandits Get $3,900

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two bandits fled with $3,900 Tuesday in an armed holdup of a bank in suburban Burnaby. Police said the men, one carrying a .38calibre revolver, escaped in a car after demanding the money from a teller in the Toronto-Dominion Bank.

VOTES UNDERVALUED BY TORIES-PETERSON

Conservatives were trying to buy votes for 50 cents a time in the last provincial election, Education Minister Leslie Peterson said Wednesday. It happened, he told the legislature, in his Vancouver Centre constituency on election day.

He said he was given a piece of paper—he held one up—with the names of the two Conservative candidates and an X beside them. "Wrapped up inside the paper was a 50-cent piece. Fifty cents a vote." The Conservative candidates were Harold Haggart and Arthur L. Johnson, They ran last of the major parties.

"But one of the individuals wanted me to pay a little higher-then he'd vote for me."

ROAD LACK CAUSES EAST-WEST SPLIT

Twain Shall Hardly Ever Meet in Saanich

By LESLIE MILLIN

If you live on the east side of Saanich and you want to go to the west side to buy a dog licence, don't go.

Shoot the dog. It's easier

" Because Saanich—with 200 miles of hard road—is short of east-west thoroughfares So short, in fact, that a car has to "tack" like a clipper ship heading into the wind if the driver wants to go east or west. A sample run across the densely-settled southern part of the municipality indicates you have to drive seven miles to make three and a half as the crow flies.

Saanich is developing eastwest routes as fast as revenue allows. If a proposed $2 million public works borrowing planis approved by council and ratepayers, the McKenzie Avenue and Tattersall Drive in the next two or three

MOTOR MAZE

But for the time being, east-west travel still requires the motorist to pick his way through a maze residential streets. maze of little

Consider the case of the man living on Guinevere, over in the southeastern corner of Saanich, who wants to get a dog licence at the police station on Vernon

As the crow flies, the dis tance is three and a half

But the motorist using all- way through Cedar Hill golf Saanich roads will have to drive seven miles each way at least.

From Guinevere, he has to travel by way of Queens-wood, Arbutus, Gordon Head Road, Ruby, Shelbourne, Cedar Hill Cross Road, Blenkinsop, Tattersall Drive, Saanich Road, the Pat Bay Highway, and Vernon Ave.

It's easier to shoot the So far. Saanich has spent about $66,000 on improving Tattersall Drive. Municipal engineer Neville Life estimates another $200,-000 will have to be spent to complete the road.

This does not include cost of purchasing a right of course, or reconstructing existing roads.

·His recommendation is that half of this should be spent this year.

AND STATE OF THE S

Land acquisitions and some construction for the McKenzie Avenue develop-ment has already cost Saanich about $31,000.

$8,000 MORE

About another $8,000 will have to be spent on paving this year if the existing road is to be kept open.

Eventual aim is to have McKenzie extend from Gor-don Head to the Trans-Canada Highway, with the provincial government paying part of the cost.

Kenzie are considered long term - because expensiveprojects.

They would almost certainly be given top priority in a major public works, program if Saanich decides abandon its long-time pay as you go policy.

Given the money, they could be finished in two years.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said two weeks ago Saanich will never catch up on pro-viding services without some such scheme.

East west motorists will have to go right on tacking along like windiammers and it could be hard on the dogs, too.

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

Coaching is a difficult racket, calculated to induce insomnia, tension headaches and athlete's foot. Right here in Victoria the coach of the Sacred Heart pre-midget boys' basketball team is under terrific pressure. "Break up Sacred Heart," has been the cry of thousands

"Break up Sacred Heart," has been the cry of thousands who have seen the team play.

"Break up the coach," has been another cry.

The usual reason for such manifestations is the effect a team like, say, Sacred Heart, is having on the rest of the league. Unbeatable, unstoppable, invincible and all that. Well, in this case there is a different reason. The SH team is unbelievable, unappetizing, and underfated. They have contrived to win not one. (1) game and only two weeks ago, set a record for futility which may well stand for ago set a record for futility which may well stand for the next eight centuries. They lost 25-0.

Since then things began to look up. Sacred Heart scored one (1) point in its next game, only 84 per cent less than

Hold On! Our Pyramid Is Coming!

Last week before sending his warriors out to battle, Last week before sending his warriors out to battle, the coach called the players to order. The forwards butted their reefers. The guards stopped playing poker. And the centre sent the water boy out to see what won the last race at Santa Anita. They were ready.

"Boys," said the coach, his voice trembling with emotion, "boys, those other fellas put on their pants same way you do. They shoot with two hands same as you do. They have one brain, sa—," his voice drops off—"Aw, c'mon, boys. Let's go."

They played their little old sawdust heads out, demonstrating the value of inspirational pre-game sermons.

the value of inspirational pre-game sermons.

They did not win (those people didn't put up a pyramid in a long weekend, either) but they only lost 16-11.

And the best thing about it was what happened to the coach afterwards. The players decided he could stay. Seems there isn't anybody else with a wagon to pack the bodies on those long crosstown road trips . . .

The perils of the profession are being felt in other local areas.

In sweaty senior basketball circles there has been a word here and there about Halda Chiefs.

Som observers believe that the Chiefs have the best personnel in the Intercity Basketball League.

They point to Norris Martin, Darrel Lorimer, and Peter

Martin was the most valuable player in B.C., the Yukon and the Northwest Territories last year. This year he is perhaps a half step slower but he knows where the basket is.

Problem: Play Hockey Or Bridge?

Lorimer is silky-smooth for as long as he can go. His endurance is amazing. Some office coat racks have more muscle and meat.

Simmonds has legs like a healthy Brahma and a matching determination. Lately he has blossomed into a scorer. He saved Victoria from sudden death extermination scorer. He saved Victoria from sudden death extermination with 30 points against Vancouver Bakers, thoroughly confusing the mainlanders' coachman Fred Collen.

"I guess I should have known he could shoot," Collen said after the bombing. "He hit for almost 40 points against us in Vancouver—firing from way out. I don't think he ever crossed centre. I remember raising Cain with Simmonds' check and he said, 'he's shooting from the middle. You want me to stop him out there?"

Too often this year the Chiefs have been stopped by anybody out there. Their consistency pattern is strictly schizophrenic.

schizophrenic.

They have ranged from magnificent to indecent, provoked cries of "fire the coach!"

Of all people the one who is apt to be least disturbed is the coach, Mr. Kenneth King, who also runs a hotel which doesn't talk back.

. . About Loud Lungs and Low Pay

There have been no rumors about lynching parties in search of John Bond, the eminent pearl grey brain of Victoria Cougars.

But there has been evidence that the Bond between master and minions is like soup at The Greasy Spoon—weak and getting weaker.

For a Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League safari to Chilliwack last Saturday there were enough Cougars for two bridge tables—as long as nobody was thrown out of

A defenceman, Ray Gregoire played the entire 60 minutes and regular goalie Edward Hastings tried forward and contributed a goal. Work commitments was the official reason for the absence of the missing bodies.

But against New Westminster Royals here Tuesday there were only nine Concern and the Missing Parcone.

there were only nine Cougars and the Missing Persons Bureau was pressed into action.

Bureau was pressed into action.

When he played, coach Bond was known as a scrappy, aggressive soul who refused to belt the enemy unlegs he was forced to. The main rap against him as a presiding genius is his overwhelming lung power. They say he shouts at two noise levels—loud and louder.

The rive new is that you will catch the roomale don't

The plea here is that you will catch the morale—don't bring up your son to be a coach. The hours are long. The pay is low and slow. The abuse is overdone.

Saanich Still Fights Lease Of Foreshore

Central Saanich council Monday refused to budge from its position of not granting foreshore leases to private in-dividuals in the municipality.

It reaffirmed its policy of keeping all avaflable waterfront property accessible to the public following a lively discussion on beaches and waterfront property.

Council's stand follows an application by J. Bryn, owner of a Vancouver tug company, to the B.C. lands department for a foreshore lease at Thom-son Cove situated at Saanich Bay on the west side of the municipality.

The department has ap-proved the application but it now wants council to endorse

SELDOM OVERRIDES

Coun. Philip Benn was asked by Reeve Gordon Lee to withdraw his motion opposing Mr. Bryn's application to permit council to study the matter

SOME WAY

The applicant, the reeve pointed out, had invested considerable money in developing the waterfront. He felt some way might be found to protect his interests without jeopardizing the rights of nearby residents.

"Did the applicant ask council to carry out these develents?" asked Coun. Albert opments? Vickers.

The reeve replied that as far as he knew the applicant had developed the waterfront on his own.

The day when 18-year-olds will be able to drink beer legally appears to be just around the corner in Canada.

That's the impression gained from interviews with two visiting VIPs.

Tuesday, Canada's chief electoral officer Nelson Castonguay forecast in a local interview that 18-year-olds soon would have the vote in federal elections.

Wednesday, Lt.-Col. Charles O. Dalton, president of Canadian Breweries, said in

"I would think that if the vote were given to people of 18 it would be hard not to provide them with the other priv-ileges of manhood."

A distinguished old soldier, Col. Dalton recalled that in wartime, "The minute a man of 18 joined the army, beer drinking was permissive. The regulations seem a little unrealistic now."

He said he thought that as long as beer is forbidden to youths, it will be attractive "The question of temperance should be a matter of education rather than restric tion," he added, pointing out that prohibition was a failure in curbing drinking Do the breweries do anything in the field of education? The colonel admits they do little because such attempts bring accusations of hypocrisy. He said for the same reason, his firm recently had to withdraw a schedule of scholarships it had offered. "However, we want people to be terrate," he stated. "The man who is perate," he stated. "The man who isn't temperate ceases to be a customer." Beer drinking is dropping off in Canada—it's declined since 1945, but in the west it's increasing, probably due to the popu-

With Spring on the Way-It's Time to Go Shopping By PENNY SAVER

Though the weather seems to contradict it, the calendar suil maintains that spring is well on the way. Shops, too, are beginning to look to warmer weather as they idly sell out their winter stock and bring in the latest spring

If you're the thrifty sort, now is the time to buy.

One shop has quilted ski jackets, with hoods that roll down finto collars, on sale for $7.77. They were regularly priced at $12.98. Jackets come in black, red, and a combination of red,

To wear with these jackets, there are slim jims and sweaters, regularly priced at $14.98, on sale from $2 to $7.

Sweaters are in pullover and cardigan styles, plain colors, prints and stripes. One Penny noticed particularly was a beige bulky knit cardigan with tan suede elbow patches. Price was $7.

Also in the sweater line are the popular mohair cardigans and pullovers in new spring pastel shades. Price is now $9.44.

Nylon and flannelette baby doll pajamas and shift style dehtgowns regularly priced at $3.98 are reduced to $2. Nylon lightwear comes in blues, plaks, yellows and blacks, and the tannelettes in pink and blue checks and prints.

Shop has quite a large stock of tall girl slims, too, suitable for those who stand more than 5'8". Price is $7.98.

Going to the other extreme, dresses in petite sizes for anyone under 5'1" are priced upwards from $8.95. Included in this relection are full-skirted dresses, sheaths, double-knits, shifts relection are full-skirted

Historian James K. Nesbitt accused the provincial government of carelessness when he spoke at meeting of the Engl neers' Wives Association, held at the Art Gallery. "They are far too careless with the his-toric treasures that are hidden away in basements, attics and closets in the Legislative Buildings. Surely, the premier, with all his new millions from the Columbia River, could find a million or so to properly house these treasures and show them off." Association president Mrs. T. M. the confidence of our customers greatest heritage!

Eaton's of Canada has grown in size and importance on customer-confidence—on the faith the buying public places not only in the selections and values, but in the descriptions found in Eaton Advertisements. One of the first steps in customer-confidence is the realization that what an Eaton ad says about goods and prices can be trusted.

If we should have any doubts concerning claims of quality, the merchandise must be tested and the statements approved by our Research Bureau before the descriptions may be used. More important, perhaps than anything else in establishing customer-confidence in Eaton's advertising is the policy laid down by the founder of the firm-"Goods Satisfactory or Money Refunded".

WASHINGTON (CP)-A revolutionary world communica-tions system is being pushed to ward an opening on a limited commercial basis next year. It will bring closer the day when you may dial Asia by manmade satellite and have the call charged to your telephone bill.

Or you may see sharply-focussed action photographs in your newspapers of events half-way round the world, flashed Canada through the skies with unprecedented speed.

In time, your television screen may bring you African tribal dances, Japanese geisha

All these may be possible with the creation of a global satellite communications network, the first segment of which the fledgling Communications Satellite Corporation plans to launch on a commercial experimental basis in 1965.

CANADIANS EAGER

The Canadian government is reported seeking an active role in establishment of the global "star telephone" network. Canadia: s have been working nadia s have been working with U.S. officials to prepare international groundwork, but the extent to which Canada's government and industry will supply money, technology and equipment and share in the administration may not be decided for months.

TRANSMISSION DELAY

The experts believe three such satellites can provide the rudiments of a line-of-sight world communications system. There are difficulties involved, making it certain the corporation also will try a medium altitude system. The Syncom is transmissions and because of the great height involved, there's a split-second transmis-sion delay so that a normal two-way conversation can be-come garbled if not slowed

Before the corporation moves ahead with its own launching, the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration will send aloft this spring its own third Syncom-type satellite. The first Syncom was launched successfully Feb. 14, 1963, but failed to operate. The second was boosted into orbit last July 26. It worked, but because of

BOYS WILL BE BEATLES THEY'RE BUYING WIGS and escaped with 30 machine guns, 60 semi-a rifles and undetermined number of sidearms.

TORONTO (CP)—Males, not females, have been bitten by the latest wig fashion craze here.

The wigs are patterned on the shaggy hair styles of Britain's rock 'n' roll singers, the Beatles. They're being sold by impresario Louis Cohen for $29.29 in nine shades—black, black with a white streak, dark medium and light brown, dark and medium blonde, off-white, red.

Boys have been his best customers, Cohen says, although some girls are interested in looking like Beatles.

Elektrons To Study

MOSCOW (UPI) - The Soviet Union, using single carrier rocket, today launched two unmanned satellites into different space orbits.

The Soviet new agency Tass in announcing the launching, said the fundamental task of the "Elektron 1" and "Elektron 2" space stations was the simultaneous studying of the internal and external radiation belts of the earth and physical phenomena connected them.'

The agency said radio-tele-metric information received from the space stations "testify to the normal functioning of all systems."

The study of the radiation belts, apparently in connection with future manned space flights, "makes it possible to obtain valuable scientific data on the nature, distribution in space and energetic spectrum of charged particles," Tass re-

Twain Shall Hardly Ever Meet in Saanich

By LESLIE MILLIN

If you live on the east side of Seanish and you want to to the west side to buy a dog licence, don't go. Shoot the dog. It's easier

Because Saanich—with 200 miles of hard road—is short of east-west thoroughfares.

So short, in fact, that a car has to "tack" like a clipper ship heading into the wind if the driver wants to go east or west.

. A sample run across the densely settled southern part of the municipality indicates you have to drive seven miles to make three and a half as the crow flies. Saanich is developing east-west routes as fast as revenue allows. If a proposed $2 million is approved by council and ratepayers, the McKenzie Avenue and Tattersall Drive routes may be finished with-in the next two or three vears.

MOTOR MAZE

But for the time being, east-west travel still requires the motorist to pick his way through a maze of little residential streets.

Consider the case of the man living on Guinevere, over in the southeastern cor-ner of Saanich, who wants to get a dog licence at the police station on Vernon

As the crow flies, the distance is three and a half miles

Saanich roads will have to drive seven miles each way,

From Guinevere, he has to travel by way of Qu wood, Arbutus, Gordon Head Road, Ruby, Shelbourne, Cedar Hill Cross Road, Blenkinsop, Tattersall Drive, Saanich Road, the Pat Bay Highway, and Vernon Ave.

It's easier to shoot the

So far, Saanich has spent about $66,000 on improving Tattersall Drive.

Municipal engineer Neville Life estimates another $200,000 will have to be spent to complete the road.

This does not include cost of purchasing a right of course, or reconstructing existing roads.

His recommendation is that half of this should be spent this year.

Land acquisitions and some construction for the McKenzie Avenue development has already cost Saan-ich about $31,000.

$8,000 MORE

About another $8,000 will have to be spent on paving this year if the existing road is to be kept open.

Eventual aim is to have McKenzie extend from Gor don Head to the Trans-Canada Highway, with the provincial government paying part of the cost.

Kenzie are considered long term - because expensiveprojects.

They would almost certainly be given top priority in a major public works program if Saanich decides abandon its long - time pay-as-you-go policy. Given the money, they could be finished in two years.

Reeve Stanley Murphy said two weeks ago Saanich will never catch up on pro-viding services without some such scheme.

East west motorists will have to go right on tacking along like windjammers and it could be hard on the dogs, too.

Metropolitan United Honors 27 Pioneer Members

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

On the eve of its 105th anniversary, Metropolitan United Church honored 27 sur-viving ploneers at the annual meeting Wednesday night-and chose Rev. Albert E.

King of Edmonton as its new minister.

The son of Scottish missionaries, 46 year old Mr. King is now minister of Highlands United Church. Edmonton. He will take over from Rev. F. E. H.

James, DD, on his retirement from Metropolitan July 1.

Mr. King is married with two sons aged 17 and 16 and two daughters, 14 and 11.

WELL RECOMMENDED "We are fortunate in securing a minister who has been recommended to us by many sources," said Vivian Shoemaker, chairman of the pastoral relations commit-tee, after Mr. King's appoint-

Metropolitan United will celebrate its 105th anniversary with special services on Sunday, Feb. 9, when Rev. S. J. Parsons, DD, of Centennial United will be guest preacher.

The surviving pioneers are headed by Mrs. F. W. Grant, who joined the church in 1890; Mrs. Herbert Knott, 1891: Mrs. Jack Scott, 1892; Miss Evelyn Luscombe and Mrs. Lulu Cameron, 1895; Miss E. E. Harte, 1899; Miss Sarah Spencer and Mrs. Walter Staneland, 1900.

RHENISH-STYLE

The present Rhenish style church with its tall flood-lit tower, at the corner of Pandora and Quadra, had been open just a year when Mrs. Scott and her family— immigrants from Stafford-shire, England—first came shire, England—first of to Metropolitan in 1892.

"It was as much a part of Victoria then as it is now," she said, "but the environ ment was very different. The sidewalks were made of wood and, as we sat in church, we could hear the klop-klop of the carriage

"It was a nice restful sound."

In a tribute to the pic s, Archie Wills recalled Mrs. Lulu Cameron (1895) sang in the choir for many years while Miss Sarah Spencer (1900) had contrib-uted much to the church's development.

LISTS NAMES

He referred also to men and women who joined the church in the early part of the century — Miss Ellen Jones (1902), Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson (1903), Mrs. Dorothy Parsons (1904), Mrs. C. E. Sonley and Mrs Verna Sweetland (1905), Mrs. E. Williams, W. S. Moore, E. R. Whittington and Ray Parfitt (1907), Mrs. William McIntyre, Miss K. Ede, Mrs. E. Beynon, T. Andrews, Dr. Hartley Sargent and the Misses H. and B. Sargent (1908).

Sargent (1908).
"I am said to have joined myself in 1910," Mr. Wills continued, "but frankly I Pioneer Farmer cannot remember when we started coming here."

F. W. Grant, as one of the Dies Aged 92 younger group of pioneers who joined around 1910, and recalled that Victoria indus- liam Wain died Wednesday in The blaze spread between a tinued, "and my father at-tended the laying of the cornerstone of the present building in 1890."

Mrs. Bertha Parsons was introduced as founder of the Gorge View Senior Housing development which now provides homes for 24 elderly persons.

"We are now ready to build another block," she said, "and we don't owe a dollar on any of it. We pay as we go.' Mrs. Parsons said she came to Victoria with her family in 1898 and attended North Ward school in its early days.

GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

"I've seen some changes some for the better, some for the worse—but I think Victoria is still a pretty good place in which to live." Metropolitan Church was founded in 1959 by four Wesleyan missionaries Wesleyan missionaries headed by Rev. Ephraim Evans, D.D., and held its the police barracks as no church building was then available.

The first building was erected at the corner of Pandora and Broad in 1860 continued in service until the move to the pres-ent building on May 17, 1891.

FINEST IN WEST

"According to the records, it was then considered the finest church west of Toronto," said Dr. James. Dr. Parsons of Centennial United referred to Dr.

James as "a tower o strength in this presbytery." "His ministry has not been confined to Metropolitan; he represents the church of Jesus Christ wherever he goes." Annual reports of many church groups were re-ceived and adopted, and thanks were expressed to the assistant ministers, Rev. E. Laura Butler and Rev.

Three Bazookas Among Arsenal

OTTAWA (UPI)-Defence Minister Paul Hellyer today ordered a "full investigation" of this morning's mun robbery in Montreal.

A defence department spokesman said both the army and Montreal police have been given a "good description" of the raiders.

MONTREAL (CP) — Fifteen masked gunmen raided the armory of Les Fusiliers Mont Royal on Henri Julien Street in east end Montreal early today and escaped with three anti-tank bazookas, four mortar bomb launchers, 30 machine guns, 60 semi-automatic rifles and an undetermined number of sidearms.

Police said they stripped the armory of ammunition.

The machine guns may be of little use to the bandits. Army authorities said the firing pins for the weapons had been removed for reasons of safety and were not found by safety and were not found by the bandits.
